Denbigh is celebrating again today after the release of the National GCSE data on the DfE performance tables website.

The new Government measure of progress and attainment sees Denbigh topping the Milton Keynes tables for both measures. These are new this year and measure progress and attainment across not only English and Maths, but a broad range of subjects including, sciences, languages and humanities. These measures are designed to recognise achievements at all levels and not simply around the grade C boundary.

Andy Squires, Head Teacher, said "I am very pleased with the results. This visibly demonstrates that not only do our students outperform those in all the other schools in Milton Keynes, it also underlines the fact that our students make more progress whatever their starting points. It clearly shows that as a vibrant community school we successfully support all of our students, providing an outstanding education for the whole ability range."
