Denbigh students raise funds for the LGBTQ+ Community in MK

Denbigh students were delighted to handover the money they have raised in support of the Q Alliance Charity, which supports the LGBTQ+ community in Milton Keynes. Helen Pritchard, Chairperson of Q Alliance came into School to meet and talk to the students who have been busy fundraising at school events and received a cheque of £530 for her charity. This comes on top of the £200 the students raised for the Charity last year.

Andy Squires, Headteacher of Denbigh said: ‘Our students are very enthusiastic about raising money for charitable causes. Each year they nominate a number of charities for whom they would like to raise money throughout the year and then throw themselves into all kinds of fundraising activities with much enthusiasm. The Q Alliance was chosen for all the work they do supporting people in the MK LGBTQ+ community, including a number of our students.’

Helen Pritchard, Chairperson of Q Alliance said: ‘It is inspiring to see such passionate and dedicated young people. The Charity is immensely grateful for this contribution, which will be used for our youth services and helping to train others in LGBTQ+ awareness.’

Notes to Editors

The Q Alliance Charity provides support, information and representation for members of the LGBTQ+ community in Milton Keynes. Denbigh School’s Brunel House Council has been raising money for the charity throughout the year.
